Once in a while you get shown the light, in the strangest of places, if you look at it right

As you may gather from the eclectic set of songs heard throughout McMenamins, brothers Mike and Brian are very fond of the Grateful Dead. In the only way they know how, they found a unique and creative way to express this love.

As construction neared its finish, Mike asked David Schlicker, a gifted artist and friend, to create a set of stained glass that ‘played’ a part of one of his favorite Grateful Dead songs, “Scarlet Begonias”

If you look above the glass windows adjacent to the courtyard, you will find these incredible pieces of art. The rounded crystals not only create multicolor distortions of light, but also represent the notes to the best verse of song, written above our bar.

To learn a little more about the artist, here is an excerpt from the David Schlicker’s website about his studio:

“The David Schlicker Stained Glass Studio, located in Portland, Oregon, has been in business since 1974. The studio's work has covered a seemingly endless range of design themes and produced windows for homes, businesses and churches from the Pacific Northwest to the East Coast, and, as far as Egypt. The founder, owner, and chief designer of the studio, is well versed in the history of stained glass and has created period pieces in Victorian, Art Deco, Art Nouveau, Arts and Crafts, Gothic and Contemporary styles. He possesses a thorough knowledge of the work of historic stained glass masters. “

We raise our pints to David in great thanks for his work.
